Dear Friends,

Despite a year filled with unprecedented challenges, CAPA has celebrated many accomplishments. Parenting classes, school-based outreach, the safe sleep program, and in-home visitations quickly adapted to virtual platforms for program delivery; our resource family program took over the licensing of foster homes in our area from the Department of Social Services; we turned the Open Arms Children's Home into a classroom and case managers into teachers; and we had a record-breaking fundraiser in March plus a new virtual one.

With all of that said, we experienced two achievements that stand out by leaps and bounds. Two of our young men from the Open Arms Children's Home enrolled in college – one at the University of South Carolina Columbia and one at the University of South Carolina Beaufort. Statistically, this hardly ever happens, a young adult choosing to remain in foster care and pursue an education beyond high school. Both of these boys have been a part of the CAPA family for years; packing their things and watching them fly the coop was bittersweet. In the end, however, these residents “aged out” of the foster care system, a fate that most describe as destined for failure. It was an active choice for these two men, recognizing that their future was brighter if they put responsibility for their lives on their shoulders and marched toward secondary education. We have never been more proud and will remain their biggest cheerleaders in the years to come.

Like everyone, we don't know what 2021 will hold. As with most nonprofits across the country, we have seen a decrease in donations and grant funding. We experienced an unprecedented loss in federal victims of crime funding and know that the effects of this pandemic will be felt for years to come. Through careful, strategic planning by our Board and Executive Team, we were able to absorb those losses and still deliver the intervention and prevention programs of our mission, albeit a little differently. And that is our plan for the future – we will continue to be nimble in the ways we reach child victims and their families to ensure that our work moves forward.

As I finished this annual report and looked at the legion of donors and volunteers listed within these pages, I remain humbled by the continued giving of time and treasure to make our work possible.

Holding CAPA in my heart and hands,

84%

of Exchange Parent Aide participants improved their skills in two of the following areas: child safety, problem solving, parenting skills, or social support.

96%

“I know many children who have now become successful adults after their stay at CAPA; one of them being a cousin of mine. I, too, have become a successful adult and enlisted in the U.S. Army. I believe wholeheartedly that I would not be the man I am if it weren't for the women of CAPA.”

-Trinity Devore, Open Arms Alumni

Just like many families across the country, the Open Arms Children's Home staff converted their kitchen to a classroom virtually overnight. The case managers turned into teachers, PE coaches, and office staff as the teens began to navigate virtual classrooms and remote learning. They even celebrated the graduation of two seniors from Beaufort High School; one of whom is still living at the home working on her life plan and another who is attending school and living in the dormitories at the University of South Carolina Beaufort. We packed up a third resident's belongings so he could transfer to the University of South Carolina after completing his freshman year of college while living at Open Arms. All worthy accomplishments to be celebrated.

One memory this year that touched everyone's hearts was early in December when one young woman turned 18. As the staff brought out her birthday cake, her eyes watered; with a calm resolve, she told everyone, "I've never had a birthday cake before." Thank you to all the volunteers who spend time at the Children's Home but a special thank you to those Birthday Fairies that gave this special teenager her very first birthday cake on her 18th birthday.

-Open Arms Children’s
Home Resident, Age 18

Every child that comes into a CAPA foster home is special, and every one has a story unique to them, but every once in a while, we get a child, a story, and a family with a particularly heartwarming journey.

Laurie and her sister came to Open Arms a few years ago after being placed in a potential adoptive home. That adoption did not come to fruition, and Laurie and her sister needed a place to land while a new adoptive family was found.

Meanwhile, a retired couple who volunteered at Open Arms decided to become a respite foster home. When Laurie’s adoption failed, we asked if they would take her temporarily. They had developed a relationship over time spent in the group home and agreed to a few weeks while a new home was found.

A few weeks has turned into almost two years. Laurie’s gains are beyond remarkable - academically, socially, and emotionally. She is excelling because of the time invested in her by this kind couple. Happily, Laurie is about to embark on a next chance at a forever family.

Resource Family Foster Care

A woman with dark hair and glasses is looking down at a baby. The baby is lying down, wearing a white onesie, and has its mouth open as if crying or yawning.

“My students now know the difference between a good and bad touch. They know who they can go to for help and they understand that it’s okay to say, “No!” to an adult when it comes to protecting their bodies.”

—Pre-K Teacher

25 foster children were placed in a CAPA Resource Family Home.

Resource Family received 483 foster placement requests for child abuse or neglect victims.

3,904 Beaufort County children were taught how to keep their bodies safe from abuse.

33 parents graduated from the Triple P Parenting program.

Due to COVID-19, CAPA's School-based Outreach program was not able to present lessons in elementary schools from March to the end of the school year. CAPA realized that during these unprecedented times it was more important than ever to continue to support children and their families. To accomplish this, the School-based Outreach program made a five-minute video targeted to PreK-2nd grade students in an effort to make sure children were still receiving important information on the three different types of touches, three safety steps, and who their bodies belong to. Once the video was completed, CAPA reached out to the Beaufort County School District who agreed to share our important message on their website as well as their Facebook page.

CAPA's mutual collaboration with the Beaufort Country School District has given our agency the ability to reach youth even in the pandemic as we continue on our mission to break the cycle of child abuse and neglect.

“To know the commitment and thoughtfulness toward us throughout joining this program from you, I just don’t know how to thank you!”

-Victoria Taylor, Mom

Beginning in March, all in home visits ceased and program delivery had to be modified to virtual platforms. One family that has shown remarkable progress in this year of adversity is a single mom of three.

When she started the program, her bonds with her daughters were weak. Her girls were acting out to get her attention. Much of the program focused on identifying what was missing in her relationships with her daughters, and how she coped with the guilt of bringing someone around them who harmed them. She also faced a loss of employment, a sudden inability to pay bills, a lack of transportation, and food insecurity. Each week, this mom was educated about the resources available to her so that they would not be evicted or go hungry. She learned how to advocate for herself and for her children. She eventually admitted to and sought treatment for her own trauma that she was finally ready to face and resolve.

Today, the mother has new employment, and she and her family are stable. She continues to focus on the safety of her children and puts them as her top priority.

Exchange Club Parent Aide

“I’ve been getting my kids more often. Things have been going great thanks to you guys and the parenting program. I hope that made you smile that you’re changing lives”

-Wrenshad Anderson, Dad of 3

Another positive that came out of this year of challenges was in the Triple P Positive Parenting program. The program saw an increase in the number of fathers being referred, participating and graduating from the program. One father even secured custody of his child after successfully completing all eight classes.

In the spring, CAPA began having virtual classes, albeit awkwardly. As time went by participants and facilitators began to look forward to the classes and enjoyed “seeing” and “being” with one another in their new online classroom. The best part was seeing parents interacting with their families at home. It became a tradition at the end of class for parents to showcase their kiddos! Children’s artwork, baseball trophies, report cards, and Halloween costumes became fair game. There were many conversations about their trips to the beach, what they ate for Thanksgiving, how their siblings bug them, etc. There’s no doubt it was tough being a parent in 2020 but the fact that CAPA was able to continue to connect with families differently to support them, was remarkable.

Triple P Parenting

To adhere to public health guidelines, CAPA's Cribs for Kids program could no longer be delivered in-person and had to follow the model's online program delivery. Participants were given access to Cribs for Kids online modules and, once their certificate of completion was submitted, CAPA staff delivered the brand new portable cribs to these families.

During these past nine months, CAPA staff delivered portable cribs to families in Beaufort and Jasper Counties, as well as to Spanish-speaking families in our community through PASOs. One particular case that stands out for this program in 2020 is a mother who successfully completed the online modules, but was unsure of how to set up her baby's crib. Once our Family Services Coordinator was notified of this, she traveled to the family's home in Jasper County to demonstrate how to set up and break down the portable crib. The mother expressed gratitude and demonstrated improved confidence in her ability to provide a safe space for her baby to sleep.
